GENERAL INFORMATION

Who Is Required to Have This License?
The license is required for any company or person who engages in the business of making residential mortgage loans, to include loan processing and underwriting or servicing residential mortgage loans, for California borrowers. A California Residential Mortgage Lending Act (CRMLA) license is an alternative to the licenses under the California Financing Law (CFL) or the California Department of Real Estate Law (DRE). The CRMLA license is not a broker license; however, a licensed CRMLA lender is authorized to provide brokerage services to its borrowers.

The California Residential Mortgage Lending Act is contained in Division 20 (commencing with Section 50000) of the California Financial Code and the regulations are contained in Subchapter 11.5 of Chapter 3, Title 10 of the California Code of Regulations.

Activities Authorized Under This License
A California Residential Mortgage Lending Act license authorizes the following activities:
- Make federally related mortgage loans
- Make construction loans
- Service residential mortgage loans
- Purchase and sell federally related mortgage loans
- Provide loan processing and underwriting services
- Provide brokerage services to institutional lenders
- See the Business Activities Definitions for a full list

License Delivery
CA-DFPI issues paper licenses for the main office designated on the Company Form MU1. The license will be mailed to the attention of the individual designated as the primary company contact in NMLS.
