Policy

The Course Completion and Compliance Record in NMLS is an integral part of determining if an individual is compliant with Pre-Licensure Education (PE) or annual Continuing Education (CE) requirements. The record shows CE information in blue at the top of the record, and PE information in green below it. The record defaults to display the current and the two previous years of information in an expanded view; older information is collapsed and may be viewed by scrolling down and clicking the + symbol to expand the view for that year.

Only NMLS-approved courses appear on the record. NMLS-approved course providers have seven calendar days from the course end date to report (credit bank) course completions in NMLS.

Many states have PE or CE requirements that exceed the minimum federal standards as required by the SAFE Act. MLOs that become unlicensed are required to complete CE for the last year in which they held a license. Individuals are strongly encouraged to carefully review the State-Specific Education Requirements Document for additional details.

Definitions and Charts

	Description
Not Required	Displays if an individual applies for or holds a license that does not require education compliance. Also displays if an individual does not hold a license.
Pending	Displays with a yellow caution symbol when there is a requirement but less than the required hours of PE or CE for the subject requirement have not been met.
Compliant	Displays with a green checkmark when the required hours for the subject have been met.
N/A	Because this number is variable, the General Electives in the Federal Requirements Section will always display as N/A.
